

10 Lo Tech Tips to Creating a Successful “Total Concept” Performance

1. Keep the music as your guiding light.
2. Sometimes less is more.
3. Consider how sound sources affect the production.
4. The solution might be something the composer never even considered.
5. Start working with your technology early, both for reliability and artistic effectiveness.
6. Scrutinize everything about your tech- how do others perceive your performance?
7. Be sure that you can clearly hear your sources- a monitor is a good thing.
8. Don't get overwhelmed- map it out and follow workflows to create simplicity.
9. Gain control by being organized and performing complete run-throughs.
10. Get Creative.
